

Current conditions at the Madison Ave Interchange

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The Madison Avenue Interchange reconstruction will rebuild the interchange and bridges over Mosquito Creek in order to meet current design standards and traffic capacity needs. The reconstructed interchange will be a tight urban diamond, similar to the configuration that exists today. This project will also include construction of longer acceleration lanes when merging onto I-80, and allow drivers to turn right from Madison Ave onto the I-80 westbound ramp without stopping.

During construction, I-80, Madison Avenue, Valley View Drive, and the trail will remain open during the day. However at night, drivers and trail users could encounter closures for overnight construction. Drivers will be impacted by temporary interstate ramp closures.
