COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa – November 10, 2022 – Motorists should prepare for multiple overnight closures and changes to Interstate 29 and I-480 in Council Bluffs next week, weather permitting. Cold weather could delay construction activities like lane marking/painting.

On Sunday, November 13, I-29 southbound is expected to be closed at 16th Street, from 9:00 p.m. until 5:00 a.m., weather permitting. This will allow construction crews to prepare for the extended closure of I-29 southbound at Avenue G. Motorists should follow detours.

On Monday, November 14, motorists should plan for the closure of I-29 southbound, at Avenue G. Drivers will need to use the Southbound Frontage Road between Avenue G and 9th Avenue to get to their destinations. Iowa DOT expects I-29 southbound to be closed until fall 2023.

On Tuesday, November 15, weather permitting, construction crews will work overnight to open the I-480 eastbound to I-29 northbound ramp.

lowa DOT is working hard to keep the public informed of construction impacts and actively seeks opportunities to update the public.
